Olympian Springs.

Even in a valley of Green River, in Casey county, on the border of Lincoln county, is situated a modest resort for the afflicted class, which is called Olympian Springs. It is not unknown to fame of a local character, as yet, earned by a single stream of medicinal water discovered a few years ago by Mr. F. M. Sims, owner and proprietor of a small hotel on the ground.

The use of the water in bath is found specially efficacious in rheumatic affections, and as a copious beverage it is found to be distinctly remedial in diseases of the stomach, liver and bowels and all ailments for which a mild saline sulphur is recommended. Some marvelous cures are reported in a pamphlet of recent date. Last year there was a run of patronage far beyond the facilities of the hotel for accommodation, but considerable enlargement and improvement has been made in anticipation of the demands of the present year.

Considerable demand has sprung up for the bottled water, and, in addition to the bathing facilities, there is also a bottling apparatus in operation.

The accommodations are primitive but hospitable. The air is good and the surroundings rural in character, the cost being extremely moderate, it is very probable that the continued development of the curative qualities of the water may make of the place a pretentious resort in future years.

At present the route to Olympian Springs is via McKinney on the Q. & C. and back to the Springs, distant six miles. After the season is well open accommodations at the hotel should be secured in advance, addressing, F. M. Sims, Hustonville Ky., R. F. D. No. 1.—Somerset Journal.

Remarkable Rescue

That truth is stranger than fiction, has once more been demonstrated in the little town of Fedora, Tenn., the residence of C. V. Pepper. He writes: "I was in bed, entirely disabled with hemorrhages of the lungs and throat. Doctors failed to help me, and all hope had fled when I began taking Dr. King's New Discovery. Then instant relief came. The coughing soon ceased; the bleeding diminished rapidly, and in three weeks I was able to go to work." Guaranteed cure for coughs and colds. 50c. and $1. at Penny's drug store. Trial bottle free.
